Notes

Reasons for Highly Commended Champion Award

A very tight feathered Silver with very distinct tight spangle and superb rowings, unfortunately against the other contenders became too excited, initially reasonably steady but although given time it failed to hold itself consistently for the period of Judging, An excellent Lizard though!

Reasons for Highly Commended Novice Award

A lovely dark Non-Cap Hen that again started its performance steady but just became too wild in the show cage to hold its potential but the bird certainly had really good form when it did display to its full potential. I do like a dark bird.

My personal view is that this bird would have out -performed the eventual winner of the show had she pulled herself together, I have the patience, but time is always against us.
